

$6,000,000 Swindling Ring Barred By Police

Government Agent Secures Confession From Member of Crooked Gang.
ONE MAN LOST $2,500,000

New Schemes Running Into Thousands Are Revealed
by Investigations.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Ill.—A second confession
from alleged members of the $5,000,000
swindle ring, brought to light by Chicago federal officials, was made Tuesday by Alva W. Harshman of Milwaukee.

Harshman the seventh man to surrender or be arrested in the case,
made a clean breast of his connection with the alleged "swindle trust." The first confession was made by Rudolph E. Kohn, caught when he attempted to dispose of $30,000 worth of alleged spurious notes.

Chicago, Ill.—A complete confession of the workings of an alleged $6,000,000 swindle ring was made Tuesday by Rudolph E. Kohn, government officials announced, as roundup of members of the gang continued.

Kohn's story, according to District Attorney John V. Clinlin in charge of the investigation, revealed new schemes of the "swindle trust" running into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Kohn was caught "redhanded" by Clinlin, who posed as a credit man for a security house, to which the gang attempted to sell $200,000 worth of notes signed with the name of Z. W.
Davis, Cleveland millionaire.

Authorities have not been able to determine whether Davis actually signed the notes, or whether the signature was a forgery. Davis was indicted, officials said, because he refused to cooperate in aiding to hunt
down the alleged swindlers.

Seize False Securities
Besides nearly $2,000,000 worth of spurious securities seized when Charles W. French, "Wolf of LaSalle street" and partner of John W. Worthington, was arrested, officials Tuesday started search for other alleged fraudulent securities amounting to millions of dollars, after Kohn told his story.

The details of the huge conspiracy
said to have been revealed by Kohn, were withheld pending arrest of six additional alleged members of the gang for whom warrants were issued,
six of the accused leaders are already held.

Authorities indicated that the other accused, however, were to be engineered through the American Rubber company, of which Kohn was vice president. Before his arrest Kohn offered to sell $500,000 worth of notes of the American Rubber company to Clinlin,
who was then posing as "Mr.
Smith, credit man" for the securities
company which discounted the notes
in the $300,000 deal.

On raiding French's rooms $700,000 worth of the American Rubber company notes were seized.

Federal agents believe that the gang swindled Davis out of $2,500,000, was based on a letter which was seized
in French's rooms at the LaSalle hotel.
Davis appealed to French for financial help, saying he would blow out his brains unless "you and your swindling gang return to me part of the $2,500,000 which you have taken from me in the last two years."

After using Davis to the limit by selling worthless notes carrying his name, according to the story of the investigation, the gang planned to play Kohn and the rubber company
of which he was an official as pawns
in obtaining money on alleged worthless securities.

James Francis Fleet, one of the six under arrest, denied any connection with the gang.

"French is an honest hard working man," he said. "I know of nothing
crooked in his dealings."

"The money we tried to raise on the notes was for building of a cement
road between Cleveland and Akron."
"The $2,500,000 authorities say Davis was cheated out of was used by him for the purchase of the Akron, Canton and Youngstown railroad. This was later to be sold to Arthur Stewart, Goodyear Tire and Rubber company
official at a good profit."

Fleet said Davis is worth $15,000,000.

Arrested in Court

Milwaukee, Wis.—Alfred E. Strelzin
Milwaukee clubman and broker, arrested and jailed last evening in connection with the alleged six million dollar swindle, said by federal officials to have been engineered by John W. Worthington, was arraigned before a United States commissioner
here Tuesday and his bail fixed at $25,000.

Strelzin is charged with conspiracy to defraud and misuse of the mails to sell forged and false securities.

Strelzin denied all knowledge of the alleged frauds.

Wealthy Man's Daughter Weds Stable Worker

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Ill.—Another of the daughters of the wealthy J. Reaver Webb, life long friend of J. Pierpont Morgan, has proved she is a true child of democracy.

News leaked out Tuesday that Edith Beaver Webb, New York society girl, married George Miles, a groom in the Lake Forest stables of Benjamin Behrs, June 14.

Webb received his first shock a little over a year ago when his eldest daughter Louise took a Central park traffic cop, Tom Leonard, home and introduced herself as Mrs. Leonard.

Mrs. Miles today was wiping dishes and wearing a bungalow apron.

"You must have some beautiful theories of marriage," she was asked.
"Yes," she replied, "and I'll keep them."

She said her husband was out in the barn shooting rats and she didn't want him bothered.
He wasn't.

LODGE PROMISES WIDE PUBLICITY FOR CONFERENCE

Senate Member of U. S. Delegation Outlines Harding's Views of Meeting.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—The Harding administration does not believe it practicable to negotiate treaties in "mass meetings," it was made known
on the highest authority Tuesday.

This short statement was made in answer to a question on the treaty with Germany and it was construed
as an answer to debate in the senate
Tuesday, on open sessions of the Washington disarmament conference.

Washington, D. C.—"No one representing the president of the United States will go to the disarmament conference in favor of the largest measure of publicity compatible with getting business done," Senator Lodge told the senate Tuesday.

Lodge has already long named one of the American delegates to the conference and is therefore in touch with the plans of the president.

Lodge spoke against a proposition
by Senator Harrison, Mississippi which would put the senate on record as favoring open sessions of the conference.
Harrison made his proposal as an amendment to the bill appropriating $200,000 for expenses of the conference.

Lodge declared that no one would question the soundness of the arguments against secret treaties, but added that some negotiations should be started in committees in private session.

He then advocated that the matter of procedure should be left to the delegates.

"This resolution proposes to meet
the delegates of other nations coming here as our guests with an already determined procedure," he said. "It would be saving to delegates that they may not confer with one another without thinking out loud."

Lodge's statement was followed by a general debate which was the freest discussion of the conference which the senate has heard.

Lodge declared the resolution would render the United States "guilty of an incivility" to the nations in the conference and expressed hope that it would be defeated.

Shipping Industry Is In Desperate Need Of Money

By Harold D. Jacobs
By United Press Leased Wire
New York, N. Y.—American shipping, seriously crippled at present, needs large amounts of capital to put it on a firm basis.

Public investment in this industry,
according to P. H. W. Ross, president of the National Marine league, not only will bring a return of prosperity to this business but will be reflected in other lines now largely dependent upon it.

"A recent statement by Chairman
Lasker of the United States shipping board proved conclusively that capital
in a very large amount is required to operate a fleet of only six or seven modern ships," Ross said.

"Federal legislation regulating overseas shippings has succeeded in completely alienating American capital from that business. Those already entangled would gladly quit, if they could."

men from the interior realize that

SHARP REACTION TO PROHIBITION IS BEING FELT

Even the Drys Are Disgusted With Extremes Advocated
by Dry League.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1921, by Post Pub. Co.
Washington.—The reaction against prohibition—or rather the extremes to which its advocates have gone in attempting to force their ideas—has come at last. Congress stands today divided as it never has been before on the issue of whether a man's home is protected by the constitution of the United States against search without a legal warrant.

Those who have been standing on the sidelines and predicting that sooner or later public sentiment would react against the extreme prohibitionists are saying that the inevitable has happened. For the first time in years members of congress who have voted "dry" every time the Anti-Saloon league puts its approval or disapproval on a liquor measure now are standing with the liberal element
as against the Anti-Saloon league proposals.

Up to now there has been no refuge
for the man in congress who felt that the prohibitions were going too far.
He has had to vote dry or he branded
a "wet." But the sears and seizures controversy has changed the whole character of the controversy. The question now is not whether liquor shall be manufactured and sold. The federal constitution prohibits that and gives congress the right to fix the amount of alcohol in beverages. But the reaction is against the severity of the Volstead act which dealt with the enforcement of the constitution.

Shall a man's own home, his automobile, his suitcase, his hotel room be searched without a warrant? Shall a warrant be issued unless there is some proof that the individual is actually engaged in the sale of liquor?
If the Stanley amendment, which was passed unanimously by the senate
goes through final prohibition officers will have to present proof before they can get a warrant from a judge.
The prohibition advocates say this will dampen the enthusiasm of enforcement officers and give bootleggers
a free hand.

The other side insists that the constitution protects a citizen against search without warrant and that one part of the constitution is just as sacred as another. The vigorous fight put up by the Anti-Saloon league against the Stanley amendment is proof indeed of the seriousness with which the proposal is regarded. Some have gone so far as to say it would make the Volstead act almost impossible of enforcement so far as individuals are concerned. Others on the opposite side say that would be a good thing for they claim the people of America only intended in the first place to abolish the saloon and distillery and didn't intend to interfere with home brewing or other personal liberties in conveying one's household goods from place to place.

RUM RUNNERS SLIP BY HEAVY GUARD ON COAST

Norfolk, Va.—Five rum runners, laden with a quarter million dollars worth of whiskey, are being sought by federal dry agents following a successful dash through the Virginia capes early Tuesday.

Although a heavy guard was posted on the two capes and the coast guard cutter Manning, heavily armed, lay in the stream, the ships slipped by dry agents and dashed up Chesapeake bay.

The liquor ships carried more than 2,000 cases of Scotch whisky, loaded
in Nassau harbor from a former submarine chaser.

DES MOINES IS NOT SURE OF STREET CARS

By United Press Leased Wire
Des Moines, Iowa.—Long drawn out negotiations will be necessary before street car service in Des Moines can be resumed.

Receiver Frank C. Chambers brought from Chicago a new franchise written by the street car company. After an all day conference with representatives of the Des Moines Retail Merchants association, who are acting unofficially for the city in an attempt to bring back car service, Chambers returned to Chicago for the reported purpose of urging A. W. Harris, principal stockholder with withdraw on disputed points of the franchise.

Stipulations of the new franchise,
which was kept secret, were said to include an 8-cent fare with a sliding scale to increase or decrease as the earnings of the trolleys justified.

Should Harris refuse to modify his demands on the six disputed points, it was said that the merchants are now in favor of turning the transportation system over to the busses, on a guarantee to furnish complete service.

FIGHT BETWEEN CHIEF AND SHERIFF CONTINUES

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Ill.—The law enforcement fight between Sheriff James and Chief of Police Baker continued Tuesday.
The latest development showed the health department of Racine had sided with the chief of police and illicit liquor confiscated by the sheriff
in booze raids would not be analyzed for alcoholic content by the city chemists.

The sheriff has announced he will send all booze to Milwaukee for analysis in the future. He also said that thereafter all prosecutions resulting from his activities would be based on state law and not city ordinance. This would mean the loss to the city of the revenue procured
through fines.

FATHER CAUSES ARREST OF FOUR YOUNG PEOPLE

here from Frank Sellnow, Broadhead, Wis., banker caused the arrest of Frank Sellnow, Jr., Harry Wendler, Leona and Velma Burton, all of Broad-head. The four are being held pending investigation, police said.

According to the letter the young people borrowed the older Sellnow's car for an extended motor trip a month ago.

FARM WAGON COLLIDES WITH MOTORCYCLE STILL

By United Press Leased Wire

were injured, one seriously when a motorcycle, a farm wagon and a still collided early Tuesday at the outskirts of the city. The still a 25 gallon affair, was carried in the motorcycle
which was operated with a side car,
according to deputy sheriffs.

The injured included two men and a girl. The motorcycle was occupied by two men and an unidentified youth of 22 who is believed to be fatally hurt.

ACCUSED PREACHER CALLED "VAMPIRE"

Woman Charges "Faith Healer" Kept Slain Wife Under Influence of Drugs.

By United Press Leased Wire
Santa Rosa, Calif.—The Rev. John Spencer, charged with wife murder is a male vampire," Mrs. E. N.
Palmer, declared Tuesday.

Spencer on being arrested after authorities had investigated the sur-posed drowning of his wife at Lake Port, asserted that Mrs. Palmer was responsible for his difficulties.

"I'm ready to confront Spencer
here in Santa Rosa or go on the witness stand and tell what I know, even if my testimony meant he would hang," said Mrs. Palmer.

Spencer, once a country physician
in Oklahoma, posed as a faith healer.
Mrs. Palmer said.

She declared he used to give treatments to women, taking his wife with him on these occasions.

"We are now at the fog end of the season," he explained, "and judging from the low grade of hogs now being received, it will be but a short time before the supply of them is exhausted and average conditions will again be resumed."

Mrs. Palmer declared the preacher's wife had been warned not to accompany her husband on his trip to the lake country where she died. Mrs.
Spencer formerly Miss Emma Morris of Dayton, Ohio, who has kept under the influence of drugs of which her husband had knowledge, Mrs.
Palmer asserted.

W. C. T. U. WILL FIGHT ANTI-VOLSTEAD FORCES

San Francisco, Calif.—The 1921 national convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union closed Tuesday with a renewed pledge to fight for the enforcement and against the modification of the Volstead prohibition act.

Charges that attacks on the Volstead law are camouflaged under the names of "personal liberty" and
"Americanism" were made by Dr.
Robert O. Matthews, speaking as the personal representative of Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes.

RESTRAIN DRY AGENTS FROM SEIZING LIQUOR

By United Press Leased Wire

tion restraining American officials from seizing shipments of liquor from Waukegan, Ill., through the United States, was granted Tuesday by Judge

court, on petition of Hiram Walker and sons, distillers.

Judge Tuttle ruled that the Volstead act does not apply because of a previous treaty between the two countries.

Two Wives Are Mourning Death Of Gothamite

By United Press Leased Wire
New York, N. Y.—Mourning by two wives, the body of Frank E. Bortel was interred Tuesday in Mt. Hope cemetery.
After Bortel's death it was discovered he had a wife in New York and a wife in South Bend, Ind. He married the New York wife four years ago and the South Bend wife in 1913.
Each was ignorant of the other's existence.

Bortel was manager of the Public Service Freight bureau here. He lived in an apartment with his New York wife spent two months a year in South Bend on vacation.

The women met here after Bortel's death. Mrs. Bortel of South Bend has returned to her home, suffering from nervousness. Bortel died Saturday night of heart failure.

Grateful To Police Chief

"Chief, you've been awful good to the old people and I can't forget that," Lawrence Lesperance told Chief George T. Prim in the police station Monday afternoon. He was referring to an aged couple living in the town of Maine at whose home Lesperance and Yaegers were in hiding after the Wabeno bank robbery. You've shielded them from our disgrace and we appreciate it. But while you may not want to believe me in view of what I have done, I speak to you from my heart, as man to man, that neither of us robbed the Outagamie county bank."

Chief Prim is primarily responsible for the apprehension of Ya-egers and Lesperance. His investigations disclosed the hiding place of the two men in the town of Maine and he worked up the case against them. He was almost confident that Yaegers was the man who robbed the bank here after his photograph had been identified.
The name of the couple at whose home the men were hiding has never been made public by the chief.

SHEBOYGAN JUDGE BALKS EFFORTS OF STATE DRY AGENTS

Governor Blaine May Be Asked to Assist in Enforcing Dry Laws.

Sheboygan, Wis.—Gov. John J.
Blaine may be called to take a hand
in prohibition enforcement of Sheboygan county as the result of a reported conflict between state prohibition agents and Judge John Meyer of the municipal court.

Today Judge Meyer refused to continue the prosecution of Joseph Poles, saloonkeeper charged with violation of the liquor law, when requested to do so by the state. District Attorney Chas. Voight made the motion to continue because of the absence of two material witnesses who were testifying in the prosecution at Fond du Lac.

Following the court's refusal to entertain the motion, the prosecution
against Poles was dismissed.

This conflict following on the heels of the prosecution of Robert Glaser yesterday in which the court is said to have repeatedly overruled the district attorney and State Prohibition Commissioner Stanley Smith who was assisting in the case, gives rise to the belief Gov. Blaine may be asked to take a hand in affairs at Sheboygan
in the interest of law enforcement.

"We can hardly expect a conviction
in any case with a jury trial in Sheboygan county," said Carl Henning, state dry enforcement officer Tuesday. "I doubt if we will get one conviction in the entire 13 cases that are pending."

Commissioner Smith yesterday said
"something would have to be done about it," referring to the alleged prejudice against rigid dry enforcement
in Sheboygan county.

Late Tuesday Judge Meyer dismissed four other saloonkeepers, held on state charges. The dismissal was on motion of the district attorney.

May Close Breweries

Madison, Wis.—More Wisconsin
breweries are to be closed by Prohibition Commissioner Stanley Smith

has deputies out checking up on the 46 breweries operating without permits.

in a collision.

Sorenson was pinned under the wreckage. Miller was found under his machine in a nearby ditch unconscious and suffering from internal injuries.

Axes And Red Hot Irons Weapons In Ocean Mutiny

By United Press Leased Wire.
New York, N. Y.—The first story of the mutiny aboard the Panama railroad liner Alliance, which sent out S.
O. S. calls and took on United States marines to guard the vessel after rioting had started among the crew, was told here Tuesday by a state making news arrived here with armed guards pacing
the deck.

Four of the crew were in irons and no one was permitted to enter the pier
where the Alliance docked.

Captain James S. Stone informed the United Press that formal charges of mutiny would not be preferred against the members of the crew who were arrested and arraigned here Tuesday on charges of inciting a riot.

Shortly before the S. O. S. calls went out from the Alliance, life on board was moving at high speed. The captain said, with sailors chasing firemen about the deck with axes while the latter retaliated with red hot iron bars.

Dr. Thomas D. Joyce said he had the busiest three hours of his life that afternoon when the rioting reached its height. He had twelve patients whose burns and cuts and bruises required immediate attention.

One passenger on the Alliance witnessed the fighting. Miss Isabelle Johnston of Ironton, Ohio. She said she saw a sailor, brandishing a hatchet, driving a terrified stoker in full flight about the deck. She ran screaming to her stateroom and locked herself in.

A bottle of iodine and the difference between American and British sense of humor started the whole trouble.
When the Alliance with 104 passengers was proceeding to Cristobal, a British sailor named James Conroy took a nap on the deck and some fellow members of the crew decided to paint him with iodine. When the burning sensation awakened Conroy,
he rushed to his bunk, seized a revolver and chased his persecutors about the ship.

12 Persons Admit He Is Wrong Man

Bank Employees Who Identified Photograph Give Clean
Bill to Suspect.

ADMIT ROBBERY AT WABENO
Yaegers and Lesperance Taken to Crandon to Stand Trial
in Another Case.

Chalmers Yaegers is not the man who robbed Outagamie County state bank July 21 and escaped with nearly $9,000.

This was established late Monday afternoon when 12 persons who saw the bankit failed to identify Yaegers or his companion, Lawrence Lesperance, as the robber in spite of the fact that they previously had identified Yaeger's picture as that of the man who committed the theft.

"He has no resemblance to the man who robbed the bank," Joseph Dohr, Outagamie bank teller, said when he was confronted with Yaegers in the police station. Dohr previously had identified Yaeger's photograph as the bandit.

Both men denied any connection with the robbery here but their statements were tantamount to a confession to complicity in the raid on the Wabeno bank a few weeks previous. They were taken to Green Bay Monday night and were to be lodged in jail
at Crandon Tuesday to stand trial for robbing the Wabeno bank. Authorities still are without trace of the loot
taken from the two robbed banks.

Cross State In Auto Yaegers and Lesperance were brought here from Chippewa Falls
under heavy guard by Sheriff Robert Miller of Forest county. Chief of Police George T. Prim accompanied the sheriff's party from Chippewa Falls after having made a hurried night trip by auto to that city for the purpose of having the two prisoners brought here for identification instead of being taken directly to Wabeno.

The sheriff's party left Chippewa
Falls early Monday morning and after driving reached here shortly after 2 o'clock in the afternoon. As soon as the party arrived the witnesses were called to view the prisoners.
Separately and in pairs they were led into Chief Prim's private office
where the men were held for inspection.

In the meantime, a large crowd
gathered about the police station,
eager to get a glimpse of the suspected bandit. There were excited whispers of "Did they identify him?" while spectators conversed in low tones, speculating as to whether either of the two would prove to be the man wanted. After all the witnesses had seen the prisoners they were taken
back to the cells.

Miss Monica Kraft was as equally positive as Mr. Dohr that neither Ya-egers nor Lesperance was the man who forced them into the bank vault at the point of a gun before looting the bank. Other witnesses declared Ya-egers bore some resemblance to the bandit and asked to have a second look at him.

"We satiated even with his features. After all the witnesses had seen the prisoners they were taken
back to the cells."

The straw hat found in Jones park
by the Rev. Father Gummerman Basil and Joseph Plank was tried on both of the suspects in Chief Prim's office but it did not fit either. When questioned by officers and detectives, Yaegers said he wore a little Lesperance spoke more freely and made statements that were tantamount to an admission of the robbery of the Wabeno bank. Both men declared they had no connection with the bank robbery here.

"We got in bad," Lesperance told Chief Prim. "We wouldn't have done
it if we had known as much then as we do now," he said, in referring to the bank robbery at Wabeno. "I was gassed over in France and maybe I don't think just right since then."

While Lesperance was talking Ya-egers sat rigidly, his stolid face giving no indication of his thoughts. He made no attempt to repudiate Lesperance's statements but seemed to acquiesce in what his companion said.

Dinner was served the two prisoners at the station and immediately afterwards they were hustled into the patrol bus by Sheriff Miller. From

TRACTION COMPANY SPENDS $180,000 TO GET BETTER GAS

Improvements in Gas Distribution System Will Be Completed Soon.

Appleton housewives who have been complaining because of the poor gas pressure the last few days or weeks should take comfort in the announcement by A. K. Ellis, superintendent of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co., that his company is spending $180,000 to give the people of Appleton, Neenah and Menasha the kind of gas service they should have. Improvement in gas will be noticed shortly as parts of the ambitious improvement project are completed. Nearly all the essential work at Neenah has been finished and excellent gas now is provided in the Twin Cities. About $65,000 has been spent there for a gas holder of 200,000 cubic feet capacity, booster pumps and new and larger mains.

Nearly $55,000 already has been spent at the local plant to improve the service in Appleton and at least $60,000 more will be expended for new mains and other improvements. Several large crews will start work this week on the new mains which will be large enough to take care of the demand for many years. The gas production capacity of the plant has not been reached—the trouble heretofore has been caused by insufficient storage capacity and small mains.

Better Quality of Gas
Workmen now are completing installation of a "relief" holder of 40,000 cubic feet capacity which increases the maximum storage capacity at the local plant to 140,000 cubic feet. The relief holder, with several large new condensers and purifiers make it possible to serve Appleton with a much better quality of gas than ever before. It will not be necessary to pump the gas direct from the ovens in the past when the demand was so great and purifying facilities so meagre that the gas could not be passed through all the processes. The relief holder replaces a similar holder of only 15,000 cubic feet capacity.

Constant pressure will be maintained in the mains by installation of a booster pump which will be in operation when the natural pressure from the holder is insufficient for good service. This pump will be ready for use in the very near future.

The big gas holder at Neenah makes it possible for the gas plant here to concentrate all its energies on Appleton's needs which that need is most urgent. The Neenah holder has a capacity of 200,000 cubic feet, sufficient to supply the Twin Cities for 24 hours. The big holder is filled during the night when the demand in Appleton is small and when the load here taxes the capacity of the plant it is possible to shut off Neenah entirely and make the Twin Cities dependent on the gas in storage there, and permitting the plant here to take care of Appleton. A sub-station at Neenah insures constant pressure for Twin City consumers. The three big holders have a combined capacity of 310,000 cubic feet.

Adequate service in all parts of Appleton, however, will not be possible until the larger mains are installed. Present plans call for a 12-inch main from the plant on Water-st. to Pearl-st. and an 8-inch main from Pearl-st. on Water-st. to College-ave., then east to Lave-st., and north to Second-ave. This line will be in addition to the 2-inch main now in use. A 10-inch main will be laid on Appleton-st. to Lawrence-st., 8-inch main on Jackson-st. to Story-st., and a 6-inch main on State-st. to Second-ave. These large pipes, which are to be installed at once and will be ready for use before Nov. 1, will insure sufficient gas supply for all possible demands.

One great difficulty experienced by the company was to provide service while these extensive improvements were in process. A large part of the equipment is now and was installed without seriously interfering with the production of gas. The most amazing thing about it all is that it was possible to provide the city with gas while the work was being done. The demand for gas in July 1921, was 24 per cent greater than in July of 1920, the traction company's books show. The capacity of the plant is approximately 800,000 cubic feet in 24 hours. The heaviest demand has been about 600,000 feet, indicating that the plant is large enough to supply the city for some time.

Amateur Travelers Most Forgetful, Hotelmen Say

Old-Timers Seldom Leave Articles Behind Them—Women Forget Often.

Forgetfulness is the earmark of the person who is unaccustomed to travel, according to Appleton hotel clerks who have learned the distinguishing characteristics of different classes of travelers.

Comparatively few people are forgetful, they say. They believe not more than 25 per cent of the people who stop at local hotels ever forget anything when they leave. Salesmen and others who travel continually, very rarely forget anything, the clerks declare. The people who spend their lives aboard trains or in hotels very early learn to "have a place for everything and keep it in its place." Even though they may be forced to catch a train half an hour earlier than they had expected, none of their belongings are left behind.

Taking everything with them has become an instinct of their nature. A traveling salesman would be as likely to forget his hairbrush, for instance,

The Ladies of the Reformed Church will hold an Ice Cream Social and Apron Sale, Aug. 25, corner of Law and Hancock Street.

as to forget his wife's birthday. It is not so with the amateur traveler. Especially if his train leaves at an unfavorable time of day and it is necessary for him to hurry just "the least bit." Ten chances to one he will leave a few trifles behind.

If a man is forgetful it's his razor that's left, clerks at the Hotel Appleton declare. Or if not his razor, the forgotten article is more than likely to be a comb, hairbrush or some other requisite of his toilet. They notice a woman is more apt to forget her umbrella or her handbag than to leave her powder puff or perfume. This is because her mind dwells more upon the latter. A woman is apt to forget anything she carries in her hand, the clerks say. Consequently, cameras or perfectly good purses are occasionally forgotten when less valuable articles are taken away with the utmost care.

Clerks at the Sherman House have detected more forgetful men than women during their observation of the traveling public. Men who check their belongings in the checkroom are the most common offenders in this respect. The two articles which are most frequently checked and most frequently forgotten are overcoats and rubbers, the clerks say.

Men who travel detest rubbers and overcoats, unless it happens they are absolutely indispensable for the time being. Clerks have noticed how relieved a man feels the instant he hands these articles into the checkroom. It gives him a feeling of freedom when he discards that extra weight on his feet and that extra weight on his back and to all appearances he is a rejuvenated being. Taking this into consideration, actually remembering to check them out with him when he leaves would be like thrusting his head back into the yoke. So it comes sort of natural for him to forget them.

Convenient Memories
In a few cases clerks are of the opinion that articles are forgotten purposely. This happens in the case of a garment which shows signs of wear or which may be a few weeks behind the latest style. All forgotten articles are held by the hotels for thirty days as required by law and then disposed of in various ways. Garments are frequently given to worthy poor people or bestowed on a church society which holds rummage sales. Now and then purses are forgotten but not as often as formerly, hotel men believe. The man who forgets his purse is invariably the man who sleeps with his purse under his pillow and the man who sleeps with his purse under his pillow is usually unaccustomed to extensive travel, which again corroborates the statement that the amateur and not the professional traveler is likely to forget.

Only a very few people forget articles in the Chicago and Northwestern passenger depot here, according to William R. Koeppe. Such articles as are forgotten are invariably restored to their owners within a short time as the loser reports to the conductor of his train who in turn notifies the station employes by wire.

Should Come Along
An amusing illustration of forgetfulness, which occurs comparatively often, is given by Mr. Koeppe. This concerns the person who takes things for granted. As a rule he has never traveled before or if he has, he never had baggage. Then one day he takes a long journey, to Denver, for instance. His baggage is brought to the depot and he buys his ticket and departs. Within a short time after he leaves, the baggage man grows accustomed to seeing a certain trunk or suitcase which is apparently unclaimed and which bears no check. After the man reaches Denver he calls for his baggage. When asked to present his check, it is revealed that he never checked the articles before leaving the local station. He took for granted that because he brought his baggage to the station it would go along with him, without any further ceremony being required.

Unclaimed articles left at railway stations are turned over to the headquarters of the general passenger agent of the railroad and are sold or disposed of otherwise.

FURTHER IMPROVEMENT IN POTATO PROSPECTS

Improvement in the outlook for a good crop of late potatoes in the country north of Appleton, as a result of recent copious rains has given farmers in that district much encouragement according to John J. Sherman, president of the Citizens' National bank, who made an auto tour through Bonduel, Clintonville, Shawano and New London.

Late potatoes look much better than they did a week ago, Mr. Sherman said, and pastures are much improved.

DELEGATES RETURN FROM BIG MEETING

Appleton People Pleased With Success of Convention at Lomira.

"An inspiring and helpful meeting" is the unanimous verdict of Appleton delegates and visitors who returned home Sunday night and Monday morning after attending the annual convention of the Young Peoples Alliances and Sunday schools of the Evangelical association which was held at Lomira, Wis.

Several hundred delegates from all parts of the state attended the convention. The meetings were held in the association's tabernacle and camp grounds near the village. Delegates from Appleton were Miss Florence Schmidt, who represented the Appleton Young Peoples' alliance and Edward Petznick who represented the Sunday school.

Six thousand persons were on the grounds at the close of the convention Sunday night. The attendance at Sunday school in the morning was 331, which was a record for the convention Sunday school.

The Rev. A. Pretorius, national bible secretary of the Young Peoples' alliance, preached a masterful sermon on the subject, "The Potter and The Clay." The Rev. E. G. Frye, editor of the Evangelical Messenger of Cleveland, O., gave an address.

Among the Appleton people who attended the convention were the Rev. F. C. Rabel and sons, Alvin and Floyd, the Rev. and Mrs. H. Jordan and family, the Rev. and Mrs. H. Bernhardt, Misses Marie Finger and Amanda Franzke and Harold Finger.

WATER IMPROVING AS WEATHER COOLS

More than 47,000,000 gallons of water was pumped into the city mains in July according to the monthly statement of the Appleton water commission which was issued recently.

Of this amount, 3.8 per cent or 1,780,000 gallons was used to wash the settling tanks and feed pipes. Two and three tenths grains of sulphate of alumina, was used to treat each gallon of water and the average dose of chlorine used was .50 parts per million gallons.

Raw water entering the plant contained 1.145 bacteria per cubic centimeter but when it was pumped into the mains it contained an average of only 2.8 bacteria per cubic centimeter. This placed the bacterial renormal efficiency of the plant for the month at 99.9 per cent.

All water entering the plant during the month contained bacillus coli but this was reduced seven-eighths by the filtration process. The water mains were flushed July 21. Since the weather became cooler, city water has shown a marked improvement in color and odor.

ROAD COMMISSION GETS PETITION FROM CITY

M. W. SAYS CIVILIZED MAN LACKS COMMON SENSE

RoBards Shows How Modern Man Takes Care of Everything But His Health—Crowds Swarm to See Him

Speaking to a large crowd in Milwaukee several days ago, R. A. RoBards' personal representative of William A. Garren, made a significant statement when he declared that "civilized man is lacking in common sense." At first the large crowds did not understand the distinguished visitor; but when he explained fully the reason for this terse statement, hundreds agreed with him, and those gathered about him marvelled at his ability to analyze health problems so accurately.

"America," he said, "must think now, or pay the price. While modern conditions have a head to do with people being sickly-looking, thin, tired and pale all the time, lack of the use of common sense can be blamed equally as much.

"It is impossible always to lead the active outdoor life nature demands. It is impossible for many to exercise the body sufficiently to make the gastric juices wholly active and vital. It is impossible to spend as much time as we should in the fresh air and sunshine. It is also impossible for us to get absolutely fresh vegetable food all the time. And this, more than anything else, is the cause of so many under-nourished, and yellowish, sickly looking people. But it is possible to treat the stomach, already weakened by these mistakes, with at least a little consideration. To these people I recommend Garren's Tonic, a vegetable compound made for those who have neglected their stomachs.

"The amount of half-chewed, hastily eaten food the average person stuffs into himself during the day is positively wicked. Then when he feels dull and nervous he wonders what's the matter and imagines he has heart trouble, or insomnia, or something else. There is just one thing the matter with him. He has abused the organ of the body which is most essential to good health—the stomach—and until the gastric juices in his stomach perform their functions as they should, all the doctors and medicines in the world will not make him well and robust.

"The other day a man well known over this section came to me and said: 'From what a friend tells me about Garren's Tonic, I think it will help me.' At least, I am willing to give it a trial. But supposing it does give my stomach in shape, how long will it last?' I simply said: 'If you begin taking Garren's Tonic right now, at the end of a few days your food should be digesting perfectly once more. But if you continue to act like a fool, so far as what you eat and the way you eat it is concerned, you will be right back where you are now inside of six months.'

"What I said to that man can be applied to thousands just like him all over the country. Garren's Tonic is the most wonderful medicine in the world, but it only aids Nature in bringing relief. As a nation, we must quit stuffing ourselves."

Garren's Tonic is sold in Appleton by Schlitz Bros.; in Seymour by S. G. McCord; in Bear Creek by John M. Sattled; in New London by Traylor & Co.; in Dale by Abend's Pharmacy; in Greenville by H. H. Schulze and in Kaukauna by E. A. Mayer. adv.

That tell-tale glance in the mirror —Does it leave you quite satisfied?

The girl with the fresh, smooth skin turns away thoroughly self-satisfied—nothing to spoil her evening. No little blemishes to conceal—nothing to worry about.

But the girl with defects of complexion which must be covered up—how can she have a good time? Her pleasure will always be marred by distrust as to her appearance.

Yet every girl could have the radiant healthy skin which is the foundation of all beauty. Intelligent care is the secret—thorough cleansing the basis.

Stimulate your skin

The network of minute cells and glands which compose the surface of your skin should never be allowed to become sluggish and inactive. The dirt, oil secretions, perspiration and remains of rouge and powder, clog the pores, enlarge them and produce blackheads and blemishes.

Once every day your skin should be thoroughly cleansed with soap and water. This is the only safe and the only sure means of cleansing.

If you use a fine mild soap there is no danger of irritation. Women who fear it have been using the wrong soap.

Palmolive, with its mild creamy lather, is lotion-like in its action. It freshens, revives and stimulates and leaves the skin delightfully fresh and rosy.

The finest soap Costs only 10 cents

Notwithstanding its rare ingredients, Palmolive is offered to its millions of users at 10 cents a cake. The enormous volume in which it is produced make the moderate price possible.

Palmolive factories work day and night—the rare oils are imported in vast quantities.

Thus a great luxury may be enjoyed at the price of ordinary soap. You can pay more but you can't get a finer, milder cleanser.

Use it for bathing

You can afford to enjoy the daily luxury of a Palmolive bath. Keep a cake on your washstand for the sake of smooth hands.

FORD'S RAILROAD

Henry Ford's desire to lower rates and raise wages on his railroad has brought from several railroad executives the explanation that the Ford road is unique. It is owned by its principal customer, hence it is put to little expense to get business. But it appears from a survey of the road's business and condition, after its first six months of operation, that other reforms, not so easily explained, have been brought about. The running time between Bainbridge, Ohio and Detroit, a distance of 280 miles, has been reduced by two hours. Ford's trains now make it in ten hours with twenty-eight scheduled stops. The road is short of passenger cars, but the four steel private cars formerly reserved for officials are being rebuilt to meet the demand.

Employees of the road have confirmed the report that Ford found enough material and scrap iron along the road to pay for it. The old record for handling freight cars in the road's yard was 200 cars a day, but Ford now handles 1200 cars a day. The road's wages are higher than any railroad union asks, but the employees work hard and are satisfied. Apparently they take some pride in their share of the credit for turning a regular deficit into an operating profit of $500,000 for the first six months of the road's existence under new management.

It is such items as the four private cars and the wasted material along the road which go far toward explaining the road's success under competent management. Ford has cut much of the red tape which restricts the average railroad executive, so that he has practically no freedom of choice in adopting economies that will increase the business efficiency of his plant. The importance of Ford's achievement is largely in the way he has overthrown railroad traditions and reduced his problem to one of transporting people and property from one point to another without undue risk or delay. The outcome of the next six months of Ford's experiment will be awaited with interest, especially if in the meantime the unions and the government take a hand.

SCOTLAND AND WALES WANT HOME RULE

Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain, who is a Welshman, is credited with the statement, at a meeting of Welsh nationalists, that he would support a measure for home rule for Wales, if a plan of revolution were prepared by the Welsh members of parliament. In the general and close interest in the Irish question, the fact had been overlooked that a movement for home rule had been under way in Scotland for some time.

While the subject of autonomy is under consideration, it would be well to settle all these problems. They can be settled. Mutual trust and fairness will adjust them. And after agreements and understandings are reached, amity will affect the cooperative spirit, which might and distrust have failed to produce.

WALLACE SAYS FREIGHT RATES MUST FALL

Testifying before the Interstate Commerce Commission, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace said railroad freight rates are exorbitant and they must be reduced. If they are not scaled down, agricultural production will be diminished. The high tariffs of this year have restricted the output of the farms, was his expressed opinion.

It will be remembered that Secretary Wallace had the courage to announce to the farmers, when they recently advocated a protective tariff for agricultural products, that it was not prohibitive import duties which they needed, but decreases in transportation charges. Developments of the past few months have confirmed his assertion.

The secretary also had the courage to repeat, in his testimony to the commission, that Argentine wheat could be laid down on the eastern seaboard cheaper than western grain could be hauled to that destination. This contention, when advanced a while ago, evoked specious refutation from railroad executives, who may have convinced themselves with their mathematical illustrations, but who made no impression on farmers who found that their losses would be less by allowing food-stuffs to rot than by shipping grain, fruits and vegetables to market.

The railroads are a facility of commerce. They are the agency of distribution. They are the link which connects producer and consumer. As they haul raw materials and manufactured products, their revenue is derived from the traffic which they carry, and the charges fall on the producer and the consumer. The government took the most sagacious course in deciding to eliminate the taxes on transportation, as these taxes are a burden on commerce. Its plan to finance the railroads through the War Finance corporation to the amount of $500,000,000 is likewise judicious, and the Winslow-Townsend bill, which covers this arrangement, should be passed by congress before adjournment.

Next, it will be the public obligation of the railroad to aid commerce, and thereby increase traffic and revenue, by reducing freight and passenger rates, especially freight rates, as much as possible. Railroad executives should understand that their objection to lowering transportation charges is contrary to public opinion. Railroad executives must realize, as shippers and the government do, that transportation is a facility of commerce, the agency of distribution.

AMERICAN PLAN IS INDIGESTIBLE

At a recent convention of hotel and restaurant managers, the prediction was rendered to the public on a golden spoon that the European plan of hotel operation would soon be discontinued. It was a strange and incredible prophecy, and the average man read it with some misgiving for the hotels which would try to adopt the American plan. It seemed more like a wish or a hope, possibly a threat, than a conviction. Delegates attending the convention of the International Stewards' association, in Pittsburgh, express a different opinion. They think the European plan is what the traveling public demand, while the American plan would be injurious to the stomach.

"The American plan is bad for digestion," averred Mr. F. J. Smith, a Newark hotel manager. "It's human nature to eat everything in sight after one has paid for it. Club breakfasts, table d'hôte lunches and regular dinners will be offered hereafter throughout the country." Mr. Smith is right in his conjecture that hotel guests would order everything on the bill of fare. People will take what they pay for, whether it is good for them or not. They would rather have indigestion than miss any of the food.

There are wise men, who were they not scrupulous, might mention another and all-sufficient reason why the European plan will be retained. It should not be divulged perhaps, yet the public well appears to necessitate its exposure. From it hotel managers may learn something which has escaped their observation—though it is alleged that the managers and their staff never overlook anything.

Most of us, when on a journey, go to the grandest hotel in town. We believe that this is a social and business policy. We feel a little pride in saying, nonchalantly, that we are "registered at the Great Pumpkins." We loiter and strut in the lobby, when the crowds come and go, long enough to establish our identity and be recognized. But in the morning we sink quietly into a coffee-and-cake lunch counter, as we never eat much of a breakfast, and eat lunch in an isolated paper-napkin restaurant, as we never gorge our stomachs at noon, and we find that, as we have spent only seventy-five cents, including tips, for the two meals, we can doll up and dine and shine in the most fashionable restaurant in town, in the evening, like peacocks at a party.

As we have seen many of our friends from home at breakfast and lunch, as we happened to pass by the lunch counters and paper napkin restaurants, we feel qualified to affirm the opinion of the stewards.

FINNY TRIBE IN COLD WEATHER

At this time of the year, when the winter has set in, it is not unusual to find holes and bare feet and toes and get a one very well without food during the cold weather but they are not torpid like the bears and grizzlies that hibernate. Most of the Finny tribe in the cold weather gather a living in water just as they do in summer, but none of them requires so much food when the water is cold.

FOOD AND TUBERCULOSIS.

The medical theories of a generation ago are the primary subjects of today. One of the old medical theories which has been discarded by the profession and still retained by the laity is that it is possible to force a tuberculous patient to gain weight by overeating. Based upon this vain theory, people generally worry needlessly over the failure of the patient to consume as much food as an active, healthy individual requires to maintain normal weight. Unfold harm has been done by unwise efforts to coax patients to swallow food which they did not want and could not possibly assimilate. The feeding of a patient with tuberculosis is not a question to be answered by Tom, Dick and Harry. It is an individual scientific problem for the physician to solve in each case according to the state of the patient and the extent of the disease. A tuberculosis patient who may possibly be permitted to take some exercise—which is in itself an important problem for the doctor—can conceivably assimilate more food than one whose condition demands absolute avoidance of all exercise. The exercising patient naturally demands more food than the resting patient. The whole idea of forcing the feeding is based upon misunderstanding of the pathology of the disease. Loss of weight in tuberculosis is a result of disease, not a cause. Well nourished individuals, that is, individuals whose weight is normal or above normal for age and height, may and often do, develop tuberculosis. And individuals considerably too stout are found under treatment for tuberculosis in every large sanitarium.

Forcing the feeding is a risky business, without constant medical supervision and a rare necessity nowadays under medical supervision. Wholesome food of good variety, well prepared and attractively served, is the desideratum, not great quantities of milk, eggs or any other particular article. Incidentally, there is no virtue in raw eggs which is not present in eggs cooked as the patient prefers. And milk is a rather indifferent nutriment, as compared with bread and butter, potatoes, peas, beans, cheese, macaroni, bananas, sugar and cereals generally.

Appetite should be fostered and preserved by making the food attractive, not destroyed by crude efforts to fill the patient with a mess of stuff which the system will be unable to metabolize.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Pyridine Cured His Asthma.—But—
Question—If you wish to confer a great favor upon asthma sufferers, recommend pyridine. Pour a little in a saucer and sit alongside and breathe the vapor. I had asthma for 20 years, and it never failed to bring great relief to that dreadful oppression. I changed climate in 1933 and have not had an attack since.

Answer—Pyridine has long been used for the relief of asthmatic attacks. It is produced by the dry distillation of old bones, also in some tobacco smoke. If the heart is weak, great caution must be employed when using the remedy. It often proves disappointing.

Mole to Cancer.

Question—Is there any danger of a mole, not quite as large as a dime, on one's skin turning to cancer? When I happen to strike it I find it becomes sensitive. (Miss P.)

Answer—Yes. Sometimes such trifling lesions ultimately become malignant. Why not have it removed by your doctor, now a trifling, painless operation, and stop worrying about it?

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Tuesday, Aug. 25, 1896.

P. J. Devlin was in Chicago on business. Bert Woodard and S. C. Shannon left for Pine Lake, where they were to camp for a week.

W. G. Thompson, who had been visiting his sister, Mrs. A. J. Ingold, left for Chicago on his wheel.

Clarence Hanna of Columbus, O., one of the first white children born in Appleton, was calling on friends. He was a son of Tom Hanna, at one time landlord of the old National hotel.

Miss Florence Rogers gave a novel bicycle party the previous evening, the guests riding about the city for an hour with Chinese lanterns attached to their wheels.

Sergeant H. E. Pomeroy was elected second lieutenant of Appleton Light Infantry by a vote of 27 to 24 over Sergeant William Zuehlke.

Dr. J. B. Murphy of Chicago, was called to Appleton by the critical condition of Dr. J. R. Reilly.

The barroom of Joseph Chenevert at the Waverly house was burglarized the night previous. Entrance was effected by the removal of a pane of glass.

The first speech of the presidential campaign in Appleton was to be delivered by Congressman C. M. Fowler of New Jersey on the evening of Sept. 4.

The Security Land Co. sold Anton VanOoyen a house and lot on Rankin st. for $1,000.

The Republican League club elected T. E. Johnston, F. D. McGovern, August Wolfram, A. B. Whitman, T. B. Reid and F. J. Harriman delegates to the state convention at Milwaukee.

At a meeting of St. Aloysius society it was decided to hold a celebration on Oct. 25 to commemorate the fifteenth anniversary of the organization of the society.

FIDELITY OF A TELEGRAPHER.

One striking example of the early spirit of endurance under great stress of which the telegrapher of the old school was capable was given by John Canam, then a young man in his thirties, at the time of the Custer massacre. He gave an excellent. He was operator and newspaper correspondent at Bismarck, which was the nearest telegraph office to the scene of Custer's last fight, 500 miles west. Attending his regular duties, and gathering here and there from incoming scouts and plains stragglers the thrilling news of Custer to send to the anxiously waiting world he worked 40 hours without rest, and for several days and nights he only caught a few winks of sleep, yet the newspaper-reading world was eagerly keeping for the thousands of words of story he was gathering. They never knew how one man was working to satisfy them.

COMPASS AT SOUTH POLE.

At the south magnetic pole, which is a long way from the geographical south pole, a compass needle suspended and set to swing in a vertical plane, dips into a vertical position with the south end downward. An ordinary compass needle suspended so as to swing horizontally only becomes useless near the poles, the magnetic force of the earth tending to pull one end of the needle down, instead of making the needle swing.

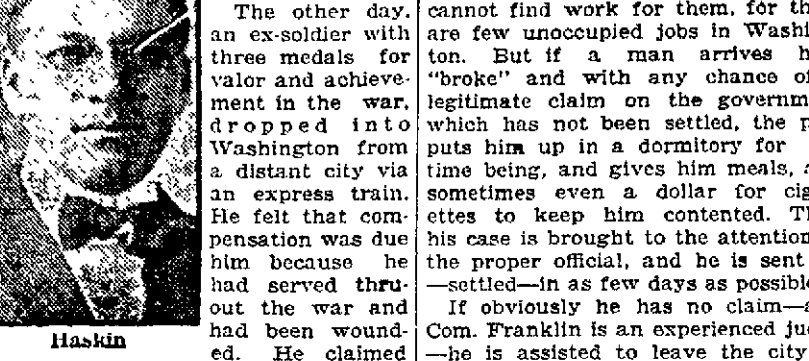

TRAIN THEM FOR HAPPINESS.

Every mother who pampers and flatters her little son is making unhappiness for him and his future wife. Every father who allows his little daughter to wheedle him off duty is preparing her for an unfortunate marriage, says London Daily Mail. Such parental conduct is a serious menace to the future well-being of the child. No man ever rediscovered his patient indulging mother in his wife.

The Siege Of Washington

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington. — This city is being made a Mecca by an increasing number of veterans of the World war, who find dealing with the government by mail too slow for their taste.

The other day, an ex-soldier with three medals for valor and achievement in the war, dropped into Washington from a distant city via an express train. He felt that compensation was due him because he had served through the war and had been wounded. He claimed shell shock, but an examination showed that if he had been affected, he was now in excellent health. So he set out for the long journey home with the same answer that would have been given him in less time if he had gone to his American legion post back home and asked it to help him.

This is one case. The general condition is that fifteen to twenty-five ex-soldiers men have been coming in to Washington each day to see about compensation which they claim is due them. Now that the Sweet Bill is a law, arrivals are increasing to about thirty a day, all hoping that the new law will favor them.

Sooner or later, these men are interviewed by Commander W. F. Franklin, of the Costello post of the American legion. Costello Post takes care of them and helps them to get their cases considered. Investigation shows that only 40 per cent of these men have any legitimate grounds for asking compensation. The other 60 per cent are men who either misunderstand the government laws on compensation, or as Commander Franklin puts it "have acquired a chronic dislike for work," and think the government owes them a living.

"To take a typical case," Com. Franklin explained, "A man was drafted and sent to training camp. He took the flu and pneumonia, set in. He has never fully recovered his health. So he is discharged and gets some compensation.

"Another man in the same town volunteers and goes to France. He is wounded and spends several months in the hospital. He gets well and comes home. Now, he sees this other man who never went to France drawing twenty-five dollars a month, and he feels that here is an injustice. He himself was wounded, he argues, and surely he is entitled to compensation if this other fellow is.

"The more he thinks about his case, the surer he is that the government owes him something. He does not reason that the country can no more pay him a monthly salary than any other wounded man who has been restored to health. In this frame of mind, some men do not look favorably on offers of work. They want 'justice.' They simply do not understand the situation."

Seeks Open Door to Treasury

"So he sets out for Washington, generally heaving his way on the trains, and tramping, and working here and there for a meal. He is convinced that once he tells his story to his congressman, that dignity will say the magic word and the doors of the treasury will be flung open for him."

How to deal with these men—many of them war heroes—has been a problem for Washington, and especially for the Costello post. This post of the American legion is composed of veterans employed in the municipal government offices of Washington. When policemen began picking up jobless ex-soldiers on streets, and bringing them to the Municipal

Q. How many bees are raised in the United States and how many pounds of honey do they produce?
P. B.

A. In 1920, there were 3,476,346 hives on farms in this country. The production of honey amounted to about 55,000,000 pounds. As it is not uncommon for an artificial hive to hold a bee population of 50,000, the number of bees kept in the United States approximates 170,000,000,000.

Q. Is mail being sent to Germany now, and if so, what is the postage rates?
D. L.

A. The Post Office Department says that at the present time mail is being sent to and from Germany. The postage is 5 cents for the first ounce and 3-cents for each additional ounce.

Q. How many fires are known to be set on in deliberately?
R. C.

A. The National Board of Fire Underwriters says that about two per cent of the annual fire loss is laid to incendiarism. In money this averages $2,040,666.00 yearly.

Q. How can a hair brush and comb be cleaned?
J. H. F.

A. Add a tablespoonful of household ammonia to a quart of water. Dip the comb in the solution and scrub with a nail brush. Dip the brush up and down in it, being careful to keep the back dry. Pass the comb through the bristles repeatedly until clean. Put the brush in a sunny place to dry, resting on its bristles.

Q. Can a hair sinister ever be removed from a watch?
W. M. O.

A. This mark in heraldry cannot be removed until three generations have borne it, and not even then un-

You Never Tire of Good Patterns

You don't tire of seeing handsome shirts any more than you tire of seeing pretty faces. And we can't tire talking about them, especially after opening up these new Eagle Shirts.

These makers are known for several things, but pattern is the chief. Their own designers work out new ideas. Their own looms experiment on new fabrics. They know that no matter how much you as a buyer will want service, you're going to see the shirt first, and the judgment of your eyes may be the vital argument.

Quince Honey Is Good

Quinces are an old-fashioned fruit which add variety to winter salads and desserts. They have a tang that combines well with other fruits. Can them in this sirup for salads and make preserves to use with hot biscuits on cold winter noons.

A few quinces go a long way, so use the open kettle method. Do one quart at a time and allow 1 cup of sugar to each quart of fruit. Cook the fruit until tender, but not mushy. It will take longer to cook quinces than peaches or pears.

Chopped Quince.
Pare, core and chop quinces. Measure. To three cups of fruit (chopped) add one cup of water. Cook until tender. Add four cups of sugar and cook for fifteen minutes after the mixture begins to boil. Pour into pint jars and seal while boiling hot.

Quince Honey.
Six large quinces, 6 pounds sugar, 3 pints water.
Put sugar and water in preserving kettle and boil ten minutes. Add quinces which have been pared and grated and cook thirty minutes longer. Pour into jelly glasses and cover with paraffine when cool.

Quince Preserves.
Pare, quarter and core quinces. Cut in small dice. Measure and take measure for measure of sugar. Put fruit in preserving kettle and add enough boiling water to cover. Simmer till tender. Skim out carefully without breaking. Add sugar to the water in which the fruit was cooked. Let come to the boiling point and skim. Add quinces and cook for fifteen minutes. Pour into jelly glasses and cover with paraffine when cool. Quinces and sweet apples may be combined in equal portions in any of the preceding recipes. Less sugar should be used if apples are added. The competition is more delicately flavored when part apples are used.

Adventures of the Twins

Visitors.
Chick Chickaree saw a shadow fall across his doorway up in sugar-maple. "Ah, ha!" he said, softly. "There's the person who has been stealing my maple sirup sap!"

But Chick was so surprised that he nearly forgot to breathe when he found it was Nancy, who had wished herself up there with the help of her Magic Green Shoes.

"How do y' do!" she said, bobbing a curtsy. "May I come in?"

"Certainly," answered Chick, remembering his manners, even if he didn't remember his breath. "Why I—I think that I've seen you before."

"Yes," Nancy told him. "Nick and I were at your house with Tingaling, the fairman landlord, to collect your rent on the thirty-second day of the month! Here's Nick now."

"Tingaling, indeed! He was the very person who told me to make a hole in my wall to catch the maple sirup sap. And I did, but someone has stolen it. Nice state of things, I call it."

"That's what we are here about now," declared Nick. "Mr. Sprinkle-Blow, the Weatherman, sent us to see if the weather was warm enough to make the sap come up in the maple trees."

"Yes," said Chick disgustedly. "It came up in the maple trees only to go down the throats of folks who have no right to it. You didn't happen to notice anyone come into my house while I was out, did you?"

"Yes, we did," declared Nancy, "and it wasn't your cousin, Scramble, at all."

"Then who in creation was it?" asked Chick in surprise.

As Strong As Its Weakest Link

We cannot help but apply this old adage to the position of a Heating System in the home.

The house may be very attractive, inside and out—its location splendid—the furniture in good taste and everything combining to give that cozy atmosphere the real home possesses.

BUT—The Heating System producing the unseen but very necessary element of heat, may be deficient,—may be the "weak link" in the chain of material things that go to make up a real home.

Confessions of a Bride

On the Ring's Trail.
"We took the Kaiser's tiara and the rest of the royal junk out of that baby-coffin and put in a fludron for waight, before we set the casket in the safe," Daddy explained to Morris. "Thanks to Jane, we still have the 'jools' cached."

"They're wrapped up in old paper which we found in the pantry and they're hidden in the breakfast foods," Katherine volunteered.

"Lorimer, I wouldn't let the girls keep 'em around too long," warned the detective.

"In the morning Bob and I are going to cart 'em down to the federal building," Daddy went on.

"It's hours before that office opens—unless you make a special arrangement—which might attract the attention of spies."

"Wouldn't be wise," Daddy agreed.

"Meanwhile—I'd like a clew to the robbery. Who stole those gems?"

"The thief climbed through an upper window while the recent battle was raging, just to pick a few little things on the side," was Bob's hazard.

"Not a bit of it!" objected Morrison. "Didn't I have a guard around this house?"

"We chorused our faith in Morrison's efficiency."

"An inside job!"

"Nonsense!"

"Impossible!" said Bob. "All the help went to town for the night—to a wedding."

"Just the same, an inside job, I say!"

I happened to glance at Katherine Miller—and she smiled with unnecessary brightness. I wondered if she had the same idea which I put into words:

"Bob Lorimer! Have you forgotten about that taxi-man? Do you suppose he is still locked up in the closet of the guest room?"

"By Jove! We've all forgotten him! But he couldn't release himself, could he?" Bob dangled the closet key before our eyes, Katherine fluttered with unnecessary show of interest.

"Come on fellows!" Bob called. He was already half way up the stairs.

Investigation—and astonishment! The taxi-chauffeur had released himself!

Morrison examined the lock and shook his head.

"An expert," he said. "You'd better look around for your rings and things, Mrs. Bob!"

"Evidently our trinkets were not worth bothering about," I announced after I had opened the drawers in my room and Bob's.

"The thief might have taken several thousand dollars' worth of keepsakes but strange to say, nothing was missing—except the ring of the charm—the antique curio with its

Mrs. SELCHERT'S DAUGHTER
Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Horicon, Wis.—"My young daughter had been troubled for several months with backache and a bad feeling in her stomach. She did not want to eat anything, while before she was so hungry she could hardly wait for her meals. The doctors gave her medicine but it did not help her. One day I was reading a little book of yours and it reminded me that when I was a young girl I took several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So she went to the drug store and got a bottle, and after taking the second one she could eat and has not had backache since. In all she took six bottles of it. She goes to school and on Saturdays helps with the housework. She is a normal, healthy girl now and we recommend your medicine. You have my permission to publish this letter as a testimonial for the Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. FRANK SELCHERT, 150 Larabee St., Horicon Wisconsin.

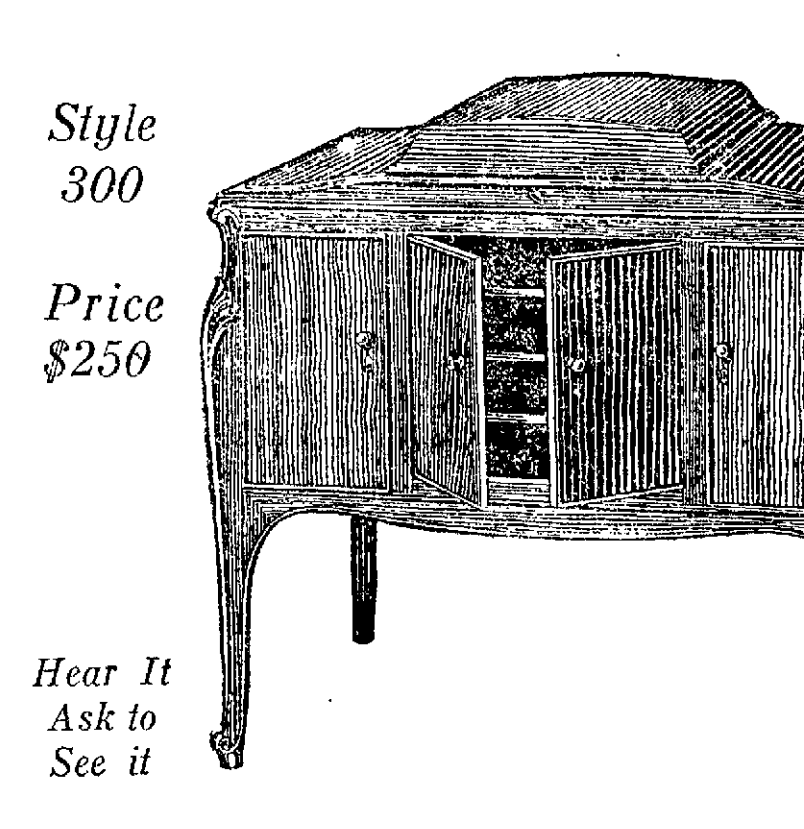

Mothers all over the country have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to be a most reliable remedy for such conditions.

THE STAGE

Girls From Jorland.
The crowd that was in to see Billy Purl's Girls from Jorland at the Appleton theater Monday night made things hum.

Billy Purl was in good form Tuesday, both in voice and spirit (no, not the kind that comes in bottles) and from the first had the audience in an uproar with his comedy.

Ruth Curry, named the "Style girl" knows how to show off her clothes. Vyvian and Kastner are a team of singers and actors, as a vaudeville act they put over a stunt that was as good as has ever been seen at the Appleton and the bits they played in the comedy stamped them both as performers of the first grade.

BOY RESCUES BABY COUSIN FROM DROWNING

Madison—A tragedy was averted Sunday morning by the presence of mind of Ralph Fox, 14 years old, who dove twice to rescue his 3 year old cousin, Robert Pease, when the boy fell from a rowboat 150 feet from shore. Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee M. Pease, 868 Lakeland avenue. Ralph, with Robert and 3 year old Leona Pease, was out in the rowboat. Robert fell overboard in attempting to change his seat. He became caught in the thick weeds and did not rise immediately. Ralph dove, and on missing his cousin dove again.

400 Per Cent Increase In Fox River Tonnage

Alex Fahlstrom Has Not Reported an Accident in 16 Years as Locktender.

Axel Fahlstrom, head lockmaster in Appleton, is the only locktender on Fox river so far as is known that has had experience on the Great Lakes. For four years before coming to Appleton, from 1892 to 1896, he was employed in the Chicago harbor, a portion of which time he was recording for L. M. Mann. For two years he served as inspector of the rebuilding of the superstructures of the breakwater and one year he had charge of the government launch on which officers made their tours of inspection.

Mr. Fahlstrom's first connection with Fox river was as locktender of the second lock at Kaukauna, March 1, 1896, where he remained for four years. He then went to Berlin, where he had charge of the lock for more than six years and also looked after the boats during the winter.

Mr. Fahlstrom came to Appleton Oct. 3, 1906, and has been in charge of the first lock ever since. As head lockmaster he also has charge of the other three locks in the city, and of the three government warehouses and all records. He was 65 years old Aug. 4, and has five years more to serve before being retired on a pension.

STOCK SWINDLER HAS LEFT WITHOUT TRACE

Charged with selling spurious stocks in this and other sections of the state and then forfeiting bonds of $500 after arraignment in Green Bay municipal court, Alphonse Goldmeyer is believed to have effected his escape.

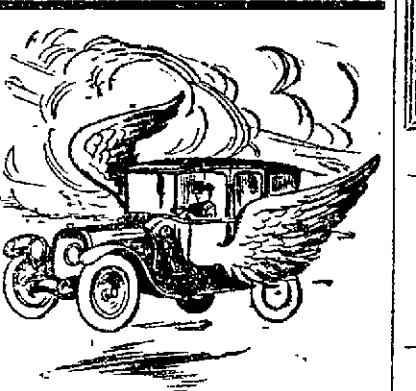

Goldmeyer was charged with selling worthless stock and with canvassing without a license. On these charges, he was taken into court at Green Bay and gave bonds of $500 to insure his preliminary hearing. He did not appear when his case was called so authorities in the United States and Canada are now searching for him. So far no clues as to his whereabouts have been found. It is said that Goldmeyer's stock game netted him $50,000.

College "Big Sisters" To Take Care Of Newcomers

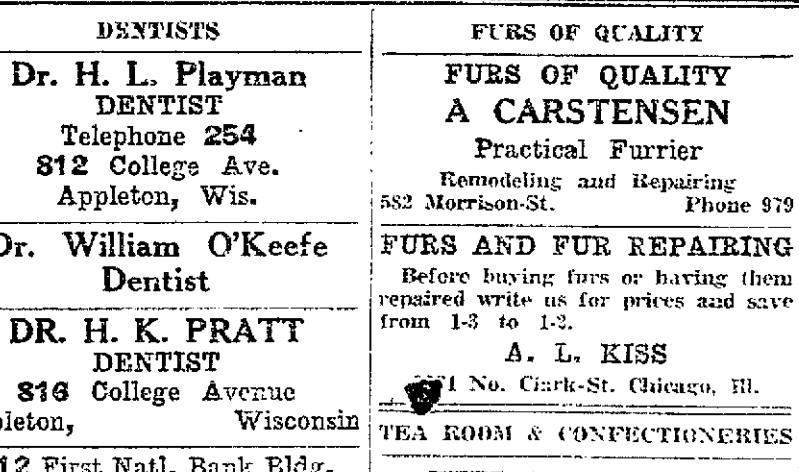

Hundreds and hundreds of friendly "big sister" letters are being sent all over the United States to the girls who have engaged rooms in the Lawrence college dormitories and who are preparing to enter the institution. The letters are sent as part of the "big sister" plan in which each of the upper class girls are assigned one or two freshman girls as their special charges.

Miss Maybelle Zealley of Milwaukee, is chairman of the committee. She secured a list of all the girls who had engaged rooms and then gave their names and addresses to the upper class girls who wrote them early in the summer. In most cases a brisk correspondence has been kept up during the entire summer. There are hundreds of questions which the prospective student is anxious to have answered—anything from planning her wardrobe to the number of dance skips she may be allowed or what course she may take from that handsome looking professor whose picture she saw in the Ariel. As part of the plan, the "big sisters" will meet the special charges at the trains, escort them to their rooms and help them find their faculty advisors and get started in the college routine. They will take care of them especially for the first few weeks trying to lessen the tendency

GIBBONS DOESN'T WANT FIGHTER IN HIS RING CORNER

Tommy Says He Couldn't Get Started Until He Broke With Brother Mike.

By TOMMY GIBBONS
Light Heavyweight Contender
Oskosh, Minn. — There is only one man in my corner when I fight. That man is Eddie Kane, my manager.

Fighters make a mistake by holding a buzzing bee in their corner between rounds. The one minute's rest is meant to rest, to regain poise and to make plans for the next round. Kane is an ideal kind of adviser. He is cool, quick to see an opponent's weakness and has the knack of imparting the spark of confidence.

Gibbons
He will be in my corner when I fight Carpenter for the light heavyweight title.

And he will be in Mike's corner when he fights for the middleweight title.

Mike used to be in my corner always when I fought. He gave me my start. We've gone through a lot of tough ones together.

He used to be afraid I'd get knocked out. That would have hurt him as much as me.

Break
But I firmly believe it is wrong for brothers to second each other. The bond of sympathy is too strong between them for one thing.

Then Mike is a fighter. That's the main objection I have to it. No two fighters work alike.

For instance, has his own effective style. Quite naturally he figures I should follow his system.

Now Mike and I are built differently. Our bones are different, our muscles are not developed alike.

A punch which he finds effective doesn't get results for me.

He used to want me to swing a certain kind of a right. I never could gain effectiveness with it.

Can't Copy
My arm turns out differently than his. My shoulder bones and muscles are not hunk together the same as his.

I used to try and try Mike's way. But put this in your hat—you can't copy a punch. Every fighter has to work out his own style and system.

I hated to break away from Mike's mannerisms in the ring. He had taught me so much. He is so graceful, so perfect in his workmanship.

But I would never have developed into a knockout fighter if I hadn't. I'd have been just a counterfeit of Mike.

Science
A year ago I had a talk with Mike. We figured it out from the scientific standpoint.

He decided that I was right. I used to miss him a lot. But it has worked out for the best.

Fighting my own way I can punch and knock them out.

Before I changed I was just a copy of Mike—a counterfeit of a man whom I think is one of the cleverest boxers that ever drew on a glove.

Instead of just being a brother of the famous Mike Gibbons I have developed a ring individuality of my own.

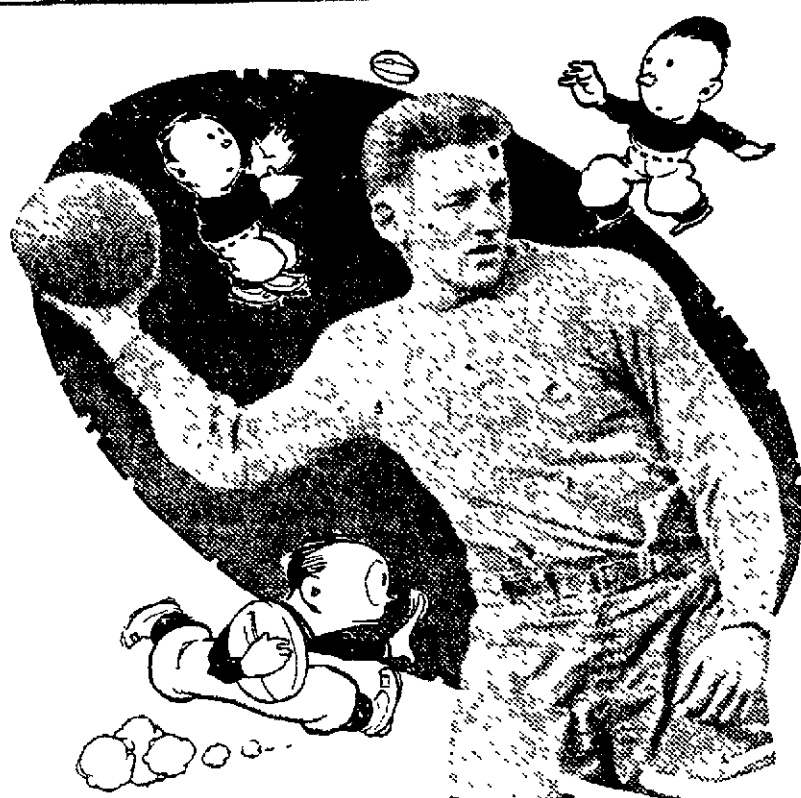

Rapid Rise
Kane once thought he was going to be a fighter. He weighed several pounds less than a flyweight.

His first opponent knocked him down seven times and he got up a manager.

And a good one.

Kane is the man who will be in my corner when I win the light heavyweight championship of the world and later the real title—the one Jack Dempsey now owns.

Ohio's New Chic Harley

Johnny Stuart and Pass

Columbus, O.—Ohio State has another football surprise for this fall. The surprise is Johnny Stuart, the quarterback who will replace "Hogie" Workman, now ineligible.

Stuart is a real successor to the Harley and Pete Stinchcomb of All-American fame.

He is as fleet on foot as Harley or Stinchcomb. He can pass a pigskin as accurately as the phenomenal Workman.

Plunger
Last fall, as captain and halfback of the Ohio freshman team, he gained more ground through the varsity than all the backfield men Ohio met in real competition combined.

Ohio State's line which battered down all Big Ten resistance couldn't stand Stuart's plunging.

Stuart isn't the only strong addition to Coach Jack Wilce's 1921 machine.

Butch Pixley is back with his 240 pounds. He played on the 1919 Ohio team and won a place on the All-American.

Following the gridiron season Pixley let down in his studies and became ineligible. He took a whirl at Princeton in 1920, but soon became homesick and returned to Ohio.

Stuart, who will fill the "crucial" game of the season, Appleton is so close behind the Overalls that a win next Sunday will put the home team within striking distance of the flag.

Oshkosh has two more games with the rejuvenated Menasha team and there is every reason to believe that Menasha will cop at least one of them.

If it does it will be curtains for the Overalls inasmuch as the Brandts will have but one hard game left—that with Kimberly. New London, which closes the season here, should be easy picking for the Brandts.

Neither teams will make changes in the lineups for the final games. They will finish the season with the teams that have been battling all summer.

Hank Schultz has promised to be in the best possible shape for Sunday's battle. He has lost two games to the Oshkosh crew and is eager for revenge.

Oshkosh has been his jinx this season, the Sawdust City fans have been riding him and he has been in bad all around in the lake share town. It will be a mighty pleasant tidbit for him if he can win next Sunday.

Stevenson has been hit hard in the last few games but his mates have been wielding the budgeon with deadly effect and scoring enough runs to keep him on top.

Kimberly and Menasha baited him all over the lot but their pitchers were unable to stop the Oshkosh batters.

Stuart and Petcoff are sophomores, Pixley is a junior.

Ohio State's lineup for the kickoff this fall will likely be: Ends—Myers and Sykes (N. Workman or Friend), tackles—Huffman and Petcoff (Spies or Lang), guards—Pixley and Trotter, backs—Bishop and Doug (Cott, Wiper, Briggs, Kennedy), fullbacks—Taylor and Weaver (Isabel), quarterback—Stuart, center—Young.

TENNIS FAVORITES HAVING EASY TIME
By United Press Leased Wire
Boston, Mass.—Favorites were expected to have another easy day Tuesday in the second round of the national doubles tennis championships at the Longwood Cricket club.

Form shown in the first round indicated that the title rests among William T. Tilden, the world's singles champion, and Vincent Richards; Richard Norris Williams and Watson Washburn, and Davis cup team winners; William M. Johnston and Willis Davis and the Kinsey brothers from California.

The four favorite pairs had little more than a practice match yesterday and their opponents today promised hardly more.

"CRUCIAL" GAME WILL BE PLAYED HERE ON SUNDAY

Oshkosh and Appleton Will Definitely Decide Valley League Championship.

All eyes in the Fox River Valley league will be on Brandt park next Sunday afternoon when the Oshkosh Overalls come here to battle the Brandts in what may be the "crucial" game of the season. Appleton is so close behind the Overalls that a win next Sunday will put the home team within striking distance of the flag.

Oshkosh has two more games with the rejuvenated Menasha team and there is every reason to believe that Menasha will cop at least one of them.

BENEDICTS LOSE GAME TO BACHELORS

Married men of the Fourth ward tossed off the high cost of living worries for a few hours Sunday afternoon when they mixed in a baseball game with the single men of the ward but they were unequal to the attack of the Bachelors and were defeated, 10 to 5. Homeruns by Becher and Boyle were features of the battle. Another game probably will be played later in the season.

Kraft started on the hill for the Benedicts and held the opposition safe for five innings but in the sixth the Bachelors got to him and scored four runs by mixing hits with errors. Green was on the receiving end.

"Cobb" Rule started the hurling for the Bachelors and was replaced after the sixth by Boyle who held the Benedicts to two runs. Faas did the catching. A big crowd saw the game.

Watching The Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero: Cy Williams of the Phils. Leaning against one in the twelfth he defeated his old team mates, the Cubs, 2 to 1.

Bill Fertia of the Cards weakened to the extent of permitting the Giants three hits but managed to score a shutout, 6 to 0.

Five pitchers and three pinch hitters didn't help the Braves much. The Pirates won 10 to 8.

Eddie Rousch's triple in the fifth inning gave the Robins a three run handicap which Cincinnati tribe never let them forget. The Reds won 7 to 5.

The Yanks sneaked back to within 1½ games of the top by picking off the Browns 10 to 2 while Boston was bunting hits and winning from Cleveland, 6 to 5.

The Athletics were dusted off thoroughly when the Detroiters cleaned up the series with a 10 to 8 win.

The White Sox showed their hill climbing ability by winning an uphill game from Washington 5 to 4.

NAVY'S FOOTBALL TEAM REPORTS FOR PRACTICE

By United Press Leased Wire
Annapolis, Md.—The navy's foot ball squad of sixty men just returned from the summer cruise, went on vacation today in order to report here for practice by September 12. The players were rushed back from Guantanamo, O. of the destroyers Worden and Flusser, beating other middies by several days.

CUBS SIGN PITCHER CLAIMED BY YANKS

Philadelphia — Something Commissioner Landis may have to untangle developed on Monday while the Cubs were barnstorming in the coal belt. Victor Keene, a local pitching sensation, tried to report to Manager Killefer, but the Cub was in Hazleton with his wife. The youngster remained over to get a tryout on Tuesday in spite of the fact that the morning papers contained a report that he had signed with the Yankees. On that fact Keene claimed to be in absolute ignorance.

WANTS STATES TO BUILD ROADS TO PROVIDE JOBS

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C. — Secretary Hoover Monday addressed an appeal to governors of all states to engage now in road construction and repairing to reduce unemployment.

More than 5,000,000 workers now are jobless throughout the country, according to an estimate by Secretary of Labor Davis. A boom in road building now would go far toward reducing unemployment, Hoover said.

Camels are made for Men who Think for Themselves

Such folks know real quality—and DEMAND it.

They prefer Camels because Camels give them the smoothest, mellowest smoke they can buy—because they love the mild, rich flavor of choicest tobaccos, perfectly blended—and because Camels leave NO CIGARETTE AFTERTASTE.

Like every man who does his own thinking, you want fine tobacco in your cigarettes. You'll find it in Camels.

And, mind you, no flashy package just for show. No extra wrappers! No costly frills! These things don't improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons.

But QUALITY! Listen! That's CAMELS!
